

Students Against Kinsey Sicks at Furman

Comments

Name	Comments
David Lowe	I find this production to be embarrassing, distasteful, and a huge waste of my money.
katy saunders	i believe there are much better ways for our money to be spent. why not bring back nicklecreek?
Kathy Everhart	This would not promote our Furman values or help Furman in any way. It would be a waste of money and be a disgrace to our University.
Zac Corrigan	Isn't there anything else better our money can be spent on?
Sam Giffin	I don't feel this the targeted audience on this campus is way too small for that show to be a reasonable use of our tuition.
Katie Fairman	I am really disappointed by the apparent lack of discretion by these outstanding organizations that have been able to promote diversity in a positive, not demoralizing, way in the past
Chad McLain	Not the best or most educational way to spend the school's money.
Brita Long	I'm not opposed to a drag show in general nor am I opposed to encouraging tolerance. But this show seems offensive and over-the-top. Explicitly sexual remarks are not in line with Furman's values.
Jennifer Jenkins	I am not opposed to drag queens, encouraging appreciation of other people's sexual orientations, or encouraging tolerance for different lifestyles or beliefs. However, all that this show seems to be about (especially after looking at their website) is a means for 4 individuals to express thier opinions in a highly offensive way. If RLC, FUSAB, and EROS want to foster tolerance, then I am sure there are much better programs that they could sponsor.
Whitney Hoagland	I think the decision to sponsor the Kinsey Sicks is incredibly distasteful. FUSAB and RLC should consider the fact that while promoting diversity on campus is important, it should not come at the expense of students who did not ask for it and yet are paying for it unwillingly.
Matt Alexander	This is absurd.
Jason Reddick	This is sick. If we cannot stop it through peaceful means, we should do something by physical means (block the doors, etc.) This is a disgrace to the Furman tradition of excellence.

Johnny Olson	why would we spend our money on this
Margaret Harouny	Not only is this an inappropriate use of our money, but it is insulting to the entire campus' intelligence to justify this extreme lack of taste and judgment by implying that this vulgar vaudeville act, in fact a gross stereotype of gay men, is a fair and accurate depiction of homosexuality. will this possibly bring a better understanding and appreciation for alternative lifestyles? I don't think so. So stop wasting my time and money.
andrew leithe	DONT WANT IT
Ian Miller	I am all for a democratic or left wing appeal for attention but do it in a way that will promote awareness not animosity
Korey Sims	Unacceptable.
Corey Gheesling	You have got to be kidding me, I did not pay 36K a year for this trash like this
Alastair Hay	I can't believe some of my money is going to this.
Ben Anderson	I support diversity awareness, but there are more positive ways of achieving this.
Sharon Mills	parent-
Mr. and Mrs. Closson	Sad parents
Teri Brinkman	While I support the right of individual students to attend a performance of this nature, I am completely against using student funds to bring this group on campus. There are better ways to promote understanding and empathy between diverse groups.
Shannan Hurley Wayne	Thank you for sticking up for good values! Let us know if there's anything else you need!
Hart H. Deal	alumni class of 1975
Liz Baird	I think Furman students deserve better entertainment than this.

Nancy Adams	Parent of current student
Ben Adams	Father of current student
Richard Mills	father
Ryan Fetz	Class of 2006
Kristen Pitts	Can we not find a better way to promote acceptance and diversity?
Millard Williamson	Really, 10,000 Dollars? How about they buy a few routers and put wireless internet in the dorms or north village. Absurd.
Blair Bouknight	Waste of money!
Tom Wessel	I'm sure the intent of this show is to shock and outrage people. Let me say that I am shocked by very little any more. Instead I am dismayed that the Furman community continues to spit in the face of the One who gives them their very breath.
John Preston Early	This is disgraceful
Melody Lehn	What an embarrassment to the Furman community that this is even being considered. The money could be used for so much better.
Anne Marie Lehn	Parent
Walter Lehn	Staff member and Parent
Ben Saylor	I think 10,000 could be spent to provide more entertainment for a broader audience.
Michael Bargar	A waste of money.
Helen Clark	Disapproving Parent
Daniel Paulk	how will this scathing satire (of both sides) promote acceptance?

Esther Mosteller	Please email me if you have questions about my specific concerns.
Jacqueline Bishop	alumni class of 2005
Lauren Carpenter	alumni
Chris Carpenter	alumni
Byrd Douglas Cain, III	As a parent of a Furman student, I am appalled that a pornographic presentation is being sponsored and funded on this campus and by this university. Furman need not stoop to the lows that were evident at Duke during our visit there before we chose Furman by reaching out to the lowest common denominator in our society as does Duke for the sake of diversity.
Kat Pennylegion	Alumni Class of 1999
Meg Freeborn	alumni
Paul Johstono	Alumni 2005, presently at Duke. While I doubt the Kinsey Sicks are the sort of moral or political authority to really sway the hearts and minds of young Furmanites, I do find the expenditure a silly--though frankly, unsurprising--waste of student money. Someone else suggested using the money to provide wireless internet in dorms, that seems much an initiative both more likely to reach a wider audience and devoid of overdone political messages at the students' expense.
Derek Pitman	This is obscene in every sense of the word. Do not degrade us and cheapen our campus through this trash.
Bruce H. Wynn	It is shameful that forced payments by students are being used for this purpose.
Gabrielle Jewel Robberts	It is an honor to sign this petition - wow, thank you CSBT
Jeff Henry	Class of 2005
K.. Jack Parham, MD	I am embarrassed to think my beloved and respected University would allow this to occur.
John McDermott	Parent of current student

Jill McDermott	Furman parent
Angela Hanor	alumni opinion
Gary Clark	Feed Greenvilles Homeless
angele huffman	If this is the way Furman spends there money they need my loyalty money,
Anthony D. Hopkins	My wife and I are alumni. I understand and support the First Amendment, but putting something like this on a stage doesn't make it "art." Without condemning any person (or the person's lifestyle), Furman can opt for theater which is grounded in something beside the shock value of sexually explicit words and actions.
Margaret Guernsey	Alumna
Melissa Pollock	alumni
Jeffery Lee Deal	Please return to your roots, Furman.
Joseph Cheetham	FUSAB and RLC... this is a complete WASTE of our money.
Gerard Smith	Violates Furman values and standards of good taste
Robert Moore	Would these groups consider sponsering radical conservative groups? I'm not so sure...
Paula Sullivan	Parent
Druid Hamrick Joyner	alumni
Ginny Bishop	furman parent
Randy Bishop	Furman Parent

Aimee and JR Murphy

Do not want the Kinsey Sicks

Susan C. Moore

Concerned Furman Parent

Lauren Ourt

As an alumni, I'm very disappointed that this is how FUSAB is using the student body's funds. This is not the kind of reputation I want Furman to have.

randy bishop

please don't allow this act to appear

Judith Corrigan

The NO SPIN ZONE would love to hear about this!

Margaret H. Thompson

parent of current student

Dr. Wayne D. Griffith

As an alumni (1979) I am deeply disturbed that the administration would allow such an event to be held and with the use of school funds to boot.

Rachel Walton

I can't believe this is even an issue

Christan Rowland

Class of 2005

Lori McHugh

This show has absolutely NO redeeming value!

Robert J. Sullivan

Katie Swiger

It seems as though diversity awareness inherently should involve the celebration of our common humanity and dignity, not a cheap reduction of an oft mistreated group of people to mere sexual objectification.

Julie Gill

Furman parent

Debbie Oxendine	Furman Parent
Duane Oxendine	Furman Parent
Dr. Larry B. Thompson	Please, no - for so many reasons.
Tony Snyder	Paying my tuition was a financial burden for my parents and will continue to be a burden for myself as I must begin repaying student loans after I graduate this year. This extravagant use of tuition dollars only goes to add to the already high tuition costs for this university.
Justin Brackett	This is promoting a liberal agenda and is an egregious waste of student money.
Anita White	Nothing to be gained from this
Kathy Atkinson	Parent and Alum
Joseph Rex Vickers	Parent
Rex and Beth Vickers	parents of two current Furman students
Stephen A. Gans, Jr.	I understand the push toward political diversity, but if it is going to degrade political parties to bring this diversity, it seems rather skewed to one side. Furthermore, the content of the songs is content that no one should hear, let alone those of us that would be religiously offended.
Tim and Donna Guinn	Furman parents is this what we are paying the high tuition for? Where do we draw the line?
William Richard Mosteller	As a Furman alum I strongly disapprove
Cynthia Campsen Mosteller	alumni
Brandon Gottschall	This show has no business on the campus unless it's balanced by bringing Ann Coulter, Rush Limbaugh and Dr. Laura to the afterparty
Lindsey Hammond	alumna
